Introduction

In October of 2008, I came to Mojave Basin with only one intention, and that was to finish school and accomplish that one goal that meant the most to me. Yet, during the process of trying to achieve this goal, Mojave Basin gave me way more than I could of asked for; great friends, wonderful staff members, and the most memorable teachers I have ever had. We may not have the biggest school, or the best sports teams that every other school brags about, but if there's one thing we do have, its a family.
